DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Caldwell et al. (USP 5,153,572).

Figure 1a shows an electronic control circuit comprising first and second field effect sensors (30 and 32 of figure 2 are field effect sensors because they are formed on a semiconductor substrate), time delay circuit (time constant of resistor 123 and capacitor 122 of figure 1b), wherein control circuit produces control output to the load only when said second field effect sensor senses touch (32) at least a predetermined time (time constant RC 122 and 123) after said first field effect sensor senses touch as called for in claim 1.

Regarding claim 2, Figure 1a shows an electronic control circuit comprising first and second field effect sensors (30 and 32 of figure 2 are field effect sensors because they are formed on a semiconductor substrate), producing a control output to the load only if said input from said second field effect sensor is received more than a predetermined time (time constant RC 122 and 123) after said input from said first field effect sensor as called for in claim 2.

3. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by McLaughlin (USP 4,289,980).

sensors (36, 94), time delay circuit (28, 96), wherein control circuit produces control output to the load only when said second field effect sensor senses touch (32) at least a predetermined time (the on-duration of the output of the one shot pulse circuit 28 or 96) after said first field effect sensor senses touch as called for in claim 1.

Regarding claim 2, Figure 1a shows an electronic control circuit comprising first and second field effect sensors (36, 94), producing a control output to the load only if said input from said second field effect sensor is received more than a predetermined time (the on-duration of the output of the one shot pulse circuit 28 or 96) after said input from said first field effect sensor as called for in claim 2.

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
